Hello Leslie,

What a ride eh!!? What can I say, I finally own my own piece of industrial real estate and have a place in which to fully function as an automotive performance shop in the city of Toronto. We are cleaning up, setting up and getting ready for a serious automotive shop up here in the North end of Toronto. I can't wait to start turning a wrench!

My old shop was crowded, tight, not really a shop and just plain no room for improvement. I needed to get my butt out of there and into something more professional: Leslie to the rescue!

Not only were you there every step of the way, but there was no time too late, no time too early and let's just say that you lent an ear on more than one occasion under less than hospitable conditions. ☺ Your drive and determination to keep me happy, satisfied and level headed is just unheard of in your business from anyone that I know. You kept me informed and that just fills me with so much confidence as I write this.

There were times I didn't know this was actually going to go through, but you kept reassuring me that everything was going to work out and it did! Your steadfast mentality and attention to detail made easy work of the difficult situations we encountered.

I'd recommend you to anyone in a heartbeat as they will be impressed with the amount of knowledge and professionalism that you will bring to anyone who is selling or purchasing real estate.

Genuinely, Thanks a million for everything,
